2022 Communication Status between Independent Directors and CPAs

1. Communication method

The independent directors and CPAs have at least four closed-door communication meetings every year. In case of emergency, the meeting may be convened at any time. In 2022, the independent directors and CPAs had five closed-door communication meetings for the CPAs' report on the financial situation and the audit results to the independent directors and for adequate communication over important adjustment of journal entries (if any) and the impact of amendments to regulations.
